Moderator: Trista Anger

Joining the collision industry in 2004, Trista Anger has spent the past 20 years focused in the Canadian consolidated market sector, working within both network and corporate organizational models. Her portfolios have included franchise growth/development, operational support, contract acquisition and negotiation, mediation, account management, and talent acquisition and training. Effectively striking the balance between property/casualty insurer and collision facility priorities has figure prominently in all her roles. In Trista's current position as Regional Business Manager for BASF's Automotive Refinish division, she heads up the Western Canadian refinish team and provides multi-faceted business support to body shop clientele and industry stakeholders alike.

Trista has a demonstrated commitment to the sustainability of the collision industry through her various volunteer board appointments including, WIN (Women's Industry Network), CCIF Steering Committee and Education sub-committee, ICBC (Insurance Corporation of British Columbia) Express Repair Liaison Committee, and Mitchell Auto Physical Damage Customer Advisory Council.
